

ROBERTS BAY RESIDENCE | SIESTA KEY, FLORIDA | YEAR COMPLETED: 2010

Tropical Getaway on Siesta Key

This renovation on Roberts Bay is fit for an avid Florida fisherman and his family. The canal-front home was transformed into a lush, tropical retreat with deep wood tones, a lagoon style pool and sprawling flagstone deck, a meandering walkway in boulder and shell, and pops of flame found in both fire and foliage.

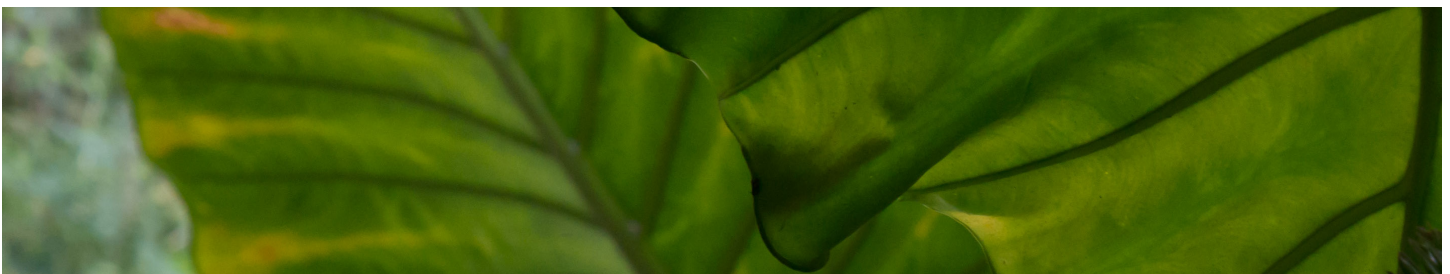

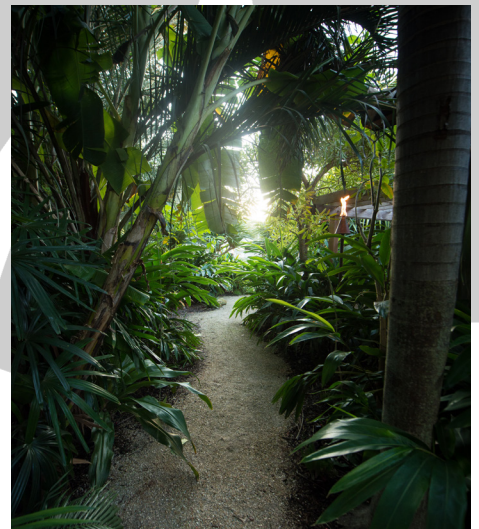

The palette of materials for this Siesta Key project is rich, textural, and reflective of its Gulf Coast environment and tropical influence. A salt rock concrete driveway is scored with sightlines that lead one into the offset wood deck entry flanked by triple specimen palms. In the back, there are spaces for intimate gathering and entertaining alike, each in fiery homage to the waterfront lifestyle.

michael a. gilkey, inc.
landscape architects & contractors

ROBERTS BAY RESIDENCE | SIESTA KEY, FLORIDA | YEAR COMPLETED: 2010

Tropical Getaway on Siesta Key

michael a. gilkey, inc.
landscape architects & contractors